KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 20 (Bernama) -- Investors need to position themselves effectively and recognise value investing amidst volatility in the Malaysian bourse and global markets that will likely persist until 2017, says an investment strategist and fund manager.

Tan Teng Boo, Founder and Managing Director of investment advisory firm Capital Dynamics, said the local bourse would be vulnerable to the looming threat of an impending US interest rate hike and other external negative developments.

In an interview with Bernama, he said the local bourse would remain mildly bearish until global economic conditions start to improve.....
